

RECC Membership Benefits

At RECC we are always working to offer you real membership benefits to help your business. We hope you will take full advantage of what's on offer to give your business that extra edge!

Being a RECC Member automatically gives you:

- a listing on RECC's online consumer search tool to introduce consumers to your business
- authorisation for the use of the RECC and CTSI logos showing consumers you are a business they can trust
- access to a range of promotional materials for your consumers to tell them why they should choose a RECC member
- RECC van stickers to help publicise your membership
- access to our full suite of model documents including proposals, estimates and quotations for each different technology, contract terms, installer warranty and cancellation forms
- CPD Certified training: if your staff members score 70% or over in our interactive training exams, they will be awarded with 5 CPD Hours to mark their continuing professional development and we will send them a personalised certificate
- access to RECC's free ADR-approved mediation service as well as a very low-cost, legally binding arbitration process provided for RECC by CEDR, should mediation not succeed
- industry and regulatory updates to ensure you stay ahead of the game.

In addition, as a RECC Member you can choose to take advantage of the following special offers:

- a streamlined way to become a TrustMark registered business through RECC for just £100
- a special rate to join the Association for Renewable Energy and Clean Technology (REA) for RECC members with fewer than seven employees and an annual turnover of less than £500k. This is an unbeatable chance to get involved in shaping policy and keep informed on latest developments in the sector
- an exciting offer to join the Which? Trusted Trader scheme, giving you a 50% discount for the first 6 months of being an Endorsed Which? Trusted Trader, and a refund of your application fee, if your application for endorsement is accepted within 30 working days
- a discount on becoming an approved trader with Buy With Confidence (BWC), the well-regarded, local authority-backed fair trading scheme, giving you access to advice from qualified Trading Standards personnel and a listing on the BWC website
- access to tailored public liability, product liability, professional indemnity, and employer's liability insurance. Marsh Commercial can give you access to specialists who understand the renewables sector and who can provide competitive rates of insurance cover.
